

Byeberry

Oxford

(Early 18th, Mid 19th Century)

T-287

This rambling 1½ story shingled house, probably the oldest residence in Oxford, has undergone extensive remodeling on several occasions and retains little of its Colonial appearance or fabric. Originally it stood at the corner of Market and Morris streets, opposite the town park. In 1929 it was moved to its current site and renamed Byeberry.

T-287

Byeberry (approx. location based on A Port of Entry by Jane Foster Tucker [May 1968])

Tilghman St.

Oxford

Oxford Quad.

Talbot Co.

12 x 1.50

50% 287

T-287